

Dear

I am writing this letter to inform you that toxic particles are being introduced into the environment through a process called "geoengineering". This process sprays toxic nanoparticle-sized metal powders into the air for the proposed purpose of altering weather. Metals being sprayed include aluminum, barium, and strontium.

Numerous soil and rainwater tests have consistently shown dramatically-rising levels of these metals. In areas where geoengineering is more intense, the levels of aluminum in rainwater samples are exceed EPA action levels.

Health consequences are already being seen as a result of geoengineering. These consequences include spikes in pulmonary disorders, heart attacks, asthma, aneurysms, strokes, allergies, cancers, sterility, digestive issues, cognitive diseases, and many more.

We respectfully request that you take the time to inform yourself about this critical issue by watching the enclosed documentary entitled "What in the World Are They Spraying?". This video explains this issue and helps people understand the likely source of the dramatic rise in disease we're seeing today.

If you have any questions or would like additional information, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,
