Edward Hammond

Edward Hammond is Director of the US Office of the Sunshine Project. He was born in San Antonio, Texas and holds two Master's degrees from the University of Texas at Austin. Hammond has worked on biotechnology-related policy since 1993. From 1995-1999, he was Program Officer for the Rural Advancement Foundation International (RAFI, now the ETC Group). Hammond is a member of the Pugwash Study Group on the Chemical and Biological Weapons Conventions. Hammond directs the Sunshine Project in the US and manages its research program on biodefense, incapacitants, and other issues.

Are you in earnest resolved never to barter your liberty for the lordly servitude of a court, but to live There seems to be one way to continue in that virtuous resolution; and perhaps but one. Never enter to return; never come within the circle of ambition; nor ever bring yourself into comparison with the engrossed the attention of half mankind before you.
~ Adam Smith

That men do not learn very much from the lessons of history is the most important of all the lessons of history.
~Aldous Huxley

He who has a why to live can bear almost any how. - ~Friedrich Nietzsche
