Dear Mr. and Mrs.

Thank you for contacting me to express your thoughts regarding trails seen behind airplanes. Your opinion is very important to me, and I appreciate hearing your views on this matter.

Numerous independent research efforts from academia and government have dispelled the notion that chemicals are being sprayed behind airplanes at high altitude. Instead, the trails we often see in the sky are condensation trails generated by the interaction between the airplane's wings and the atmosphere.

As your United States Senator, I rely on the important communications I receive from my constituents to guide my work in Washington. While I may not always succeed in addressing all of your issues, I am working diligently every day to respond to the many valuable insights I receive from New Jerseyans just like you.
