From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Rauni-Leena Tellervo Luukanen-Kilde née Valve^[1] (15 November 1939 – 8 February 2015) was a Finnish physician who wrote and lectured on parapsychology, ufology and mind control.

Luukanen-Kilde was born in Värtsilä. She had to flee with her family in infancy during the Second World War and was raised in Helsinki.^[2] She studied medicine at the universities of Oulu and Turku, graduating in 1967.^[3] She was at one point the only medical practitioner at the hospital in Pelkosenniemi, performing dental and veterinary work as well.^[4] In March 1975, she became a provincial medical officer in Rovaniemi, Lapland;^[2] she became chief medical officer for Lapland.^{[4][5]}

In 1982, as Rauni-Leena Luukanen, she published Kuolemaa ei ole (There Is No Death).^[6] She had been interested in the paranormal since she was a teenager, but her interest in UFOs may date to a 1985 car accident which led to her retirement. She appeared as a featured speaker at UFO conferences, helped organize the first international conference on extraterrestrials in Finland^[7] and authored books about UFOs, alien abductions, mind control and conspiracy theories. Luukanen-Kilde claimed to have been "rescued" from danger by extraterrestrials, and to have esoteric skills and knowledge as a result of her relationship with them.^[8] She said that there was a secret exchange program between humans and aliens that was being deliberately suppressed by "powerful Western governments", particularly the United States.^[2] Luukanen-Kilde also said that secret military and intelligence agencies were practising mind control technology on the world population using cell phones and supercomputers and that a plot to kill most of the Earth's population using the swine flu vaccine was being carried out by the WHO, Henry Kissinger and the Bilderberg Group.^[9] Her article on cybernetic implants as a means of control is widely circulated.^{[3][10]} She appears in the 1999 film Revelations: The End Times, Volume 2.

Luukanen-Kilde married a Norwegian diplomat in 1987^[2] and moved to Norway in 1992.^[11] He died in 1996. She died in Vaasa in February 2015 after a long illness, having returned to Finland shortly before.^[3]
